

Equator

Rainforests cover about 6% of the Earth's surface but are home to over half of the world's species of plants and animals.

 =Rainforests